St. John 8:32 - And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.

8:44 - Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do. He was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father of it.

8:58 - Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, before Abraham was, I AM.

Ezekiel 44:24 - And in controversy they shall stand in judgment; and they shall judge it according to my judgments: and they shall keep my laws and my statutes in all mine assemblies; and they shall hallow my sabbaths.

Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons:
But in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him.

22:28 - And the chief captain answered, With a great sum obtained I this freedom. And Paul said, But I was free born.

Romans 8:14-17 - For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God.

For ye have not received the spirit of bondage again to fear; but ye have received the Spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, Abba, Father.

The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God:

And if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ; if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together.

12:1-2 - I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service.

And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God.

13:8-10 - Owe no man any thing, but to love one another:
for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law.

For this, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, thou shalt not covet; and if there be any other commandment, it is briefly comprehended in this saying, namely, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.

Love worketh no ill to his neighbor: therefore love is the fulfilling of the law.

Ephesians 2:18-19 - For through him we both have access by one Spirit unto the Father.

Now therefore ye are no more strangers and foreigners, but fellow citizens with the saints, and of the household of God;

4:6 - One God and Father of All, who is above all, and through all, and in you all.

4:14 - That we henceforth be no more children, tossed to and fro, and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, and cunning craftiness, where by they lie in wait to deceive;

James 2:8 - If ye fulfil the royal law according to the scripture, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself, ye do well.

4:4 - Ye adulterers and adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world is the enemy of God.

5:12 - But above all things, my brethren, swear not, neither by heaven, neither by the earth, neither by any other oath: but let your yea be yea; and your nay, nay; lest ye fall into condemnation.

St. Luke 6:31 - And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise.

16:13 - No servant can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other, or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ.

There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus.

And if ye be Christ's, then are ye Abraham's seed, and heirs according to the promise.

4:6-7 - And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of His Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father.

Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son; and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ.

5:14 - For all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this; Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.

I Thessalonians 4:6 - That no man go beyond and defraud his brother in any matter: because that the Lord is the avenger of all such, as we also have forewarned you and testified.

I John 3:1-2 - Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God: therefore the world knoweth us not, because it knew him not.

Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is.

He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love.

4:12-13 - No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us.

Hereby know we that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit.

4:16 - And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him.

Things do not change their ownership when captured by pirates and robbers.

Absolute power in all things lawful.

An action is the right of prosecuting to judgment that which is one's due.

An admiralty court has no jurisdiction over those questions which are determined by the common law.

It is the duty of justices to administer justice to everyone seeking it from him.

Equity acts upon the person.

Equity supplies defects.

Equity remedies errors.

Equity is the correction of law, when too general, in the part in which it is defective.

Equity is a kind of perfect reason which interprets and amends the written law, comprehended in no code, but consistent with reason alone.

Equity assists ignorance, but not carelessness.

Jurisdiction is not confounded by equity.

Equity does not regard the form and circumstance, but rather the substance of the act.

Equity desires by all means to arrive at the truth.

Equity desires the spoiled, deceived, and the ruined, above all things, to have restitution.

What is just and right is the laws of laws.

He who affirms must prove.

To conceal is one thing, to be silent another.

A twisting of language is unworthy of a judge.

It is the duty of a good judge to order judgment to be executed without delay.

A good judge decides according to justice and right, and prefers equity to strict law.

No man should derive any benefit from his own wrong.

The law never permits anything contrary to truth.

The crime of treason exceeds all other crimes as to its punishment.

Gross negligence is equivalent to fraud.

There may be damage without injury.

Every man's house should be a perfectly safe refuge.

Laws assist the deceived, not the deceiving.

A delegated power cannot be delegated.

A delegate cannot delegate.

The power derived cannot be greater than that from which it is derived.

Delays in law are odious.

By fraud or dolo a contract perishes.

A deceiver deals in generalities.

Deceit and fraud shall excuse or benefit no man.

Deceit and fraud should always be remedied.

Right cannot die.

In the same way in which anything is constituted, it may be destroyed.

Equity suffers not a right without a remedy.

From a wrong no contract can arise.

False in one thing, false in all things.

No proof is incumbent upon him who denies a fact.

Let justice be done though the heavens fall.

Fiction yields to truth; where there is truth fiction of law does not exist.

Fraud binds, but does not dissolve, perjury.

It is a fraud to conceal a fraud.

Fraud and deceit should benefit no one.

Fraud and justice never dwell together.

Fraud lies hidden in general expressions.

Man is a term of nature, person of the civil law.

Impunity invites to greater crimes.

No one may come into court with unclean hands.

In favor of life, liberty and innocence, all things are to be presumed.

In a legal fiction, equity always exists.

He truly acts fraudulently who, observing the letter of the law, eludes its spirit.

Equity is to be regarded in all things, but particularly in law.

One may do with his own as he pleases, if he does not invade the rights of others.

A hidden intention is bad.

It is equity that he should have satisfaction who sustained the loss.

A judge ought always to regard equity.

It is the duty of a judge to finish the work of each day within that day.

It is a decision to favor those things that favor religion, though words be wanting.

The laws of nature are unchangeable.

By the law of nature it is just that no one become more rich by the detriment and injury of another.

Law is a rule of right, and whatever is contrary to the rule of right is an injury.

Right and fraud never dwell together.

The law of nature is properly the dictate of right reason, by which we know what is dishonest and what is honest, what should be done and what avoided.

Justice ought to be unbought, because nothing is more hateful than venal justice, free for justice should not shut out, and quick, for delay is a sort of denial.

Justice is an excellent virtue, and pleasing to the most High.

Justice should be denied to no one.

Justice is not to be denied, or delayed.

Law favoureth honor and order.

Law favoureth justice and right.

Law favoureth life, liberty and dower.

Law favoureth truth, faith and certainty.

Law hateth wrong.

The contract makes the law.

The Law of God and the law of the land are all one.

Laws should bind those who make them.

Laws aid the vigilant, not the negligent.

Fictions arise from the law, and not the law from fictions.

The law delights in equity; it covets perfection; it is a rule of right.

An unjust law is not a law.

The law works harm to no one, and does no one an injury.

The law forces not to impossibilities.

The law is more praised when it is consonant to reason.
Law will always give a remedy.
The law always intends what is agreeable to reason.
The law regards the order of nature.
Liberty is an inestimable thing.
Liberty is the right to alienate or restrain one's own right.
Liberty is more favored than all things.
Everyone is free to ascertain for himself, or to have recourse to counsel.
Long time and long use, which exceeds the memory of man, suffices in law.
Great neglect is equivalent to fraud.
A maxim is so called because its dignity is chiefest, and its authority the most certain, and because it is universally approved by all.
Force and injury are chiefly contrary to peace.
Custom and agreement overrule law.
Monuments, which we call records, are the vestiges of truth and antiquity.
A custom of the truest antiquity is to be retained.
Many things pertain ^{to} not to human laws, but to divine jurisdictions.
Neither time nor place bars the king.
Where the divinity is insulted the case is unpardonable.
That is necessary which cannot be otherwise.
Necessity gives a privilege with reference to private rights.
Necessity defends what it compels.
Denial cannot be proved.
No one may sue at law in the name of another.

No one does damage, unless he is doing what he has no right to do.

No one may be dragged from his own house.

No one should interfere in another's business, in nothing relating to him.

No one should be retained in partnership against his will.

No one should lose his property without his own act or negligence.

No one is beyond the law.

No one is relieved, or gains an advantage from his own proper deceit.

No man warring for God should be troubled by secular business.

No one can do by another what he cannot do by himself.

No one is punished unless for some injury, deed or default.

No one is bound to an impossibility.

No one is bound to expose himself to misfortunes and dangers.

Nothing is so contrary to consent as force and fear.

We can do nothing against truth.

Nothing which is against reason is lawful.

Nothing is so natural to equity, as that the same thing be dissolved by the same means by which it was bound.

Nothing is useful or honorable that is contrary to law.

He who errs does not consent.

He who does not defend himself when present is considered as submitting.

It is not law but servitude to be held by what we have not consented to.

Not what is said, but what is done, is to be regarded.
It matters not if a revocation is made by word or deed.
He does not appear to have retained consent who has changed anything through the menaces of a party threatening.

He is not regarded as using force, who exercises his own right, and proceeds by ordinary action.

It cannot be effectuated by any agreement, that there is no accountability for fraud.

There is no loss without a remedy.

No one shall obtain an advantage by his own wrong.
No man can forfeit the right of another.

All men are either freemen or slaves.

All shall have liberty to renounce those things which have been established in their favor.

All things are to be presumed against a wrongdoer.

Every dishonorable contract is odious to the laws.

There is no disputing against or denying principles.

Every definition in law is dangerous, for there is but little that cannot be overthrown.

Once a fraud, always a fraud.

That contracts which are made against the law or against good morals, have no force, is a principle of undoubted law.

Word of mouth flies away, things written remain.

Crimes against nature are the most heinous.

They are perjured, who, preserving the words of an oath, deceive the ears of those who receive it.

Plain truths need not be proved.

Several persons cannot each have, at the same time, an equal right to the same thing.

Politics are to be adapted to the laws, and not the laws to politics.

Possession is a good title where no better title appears. There is no doubt that the rights of others cannot be prejudiced by private agreement.

The extremes being proved, the intermediate proceedings are presumed.

Words spoken to one end, should not be perverted to another.

Things which are forbidden in the nature of things, are confirmed by no law.

Things which afford a ground of action, if raised within a certain time, may be pleaded at any time, by way of exception.

Every jurisdiction has its own limits.

When anything is commanded, everything by which it can be accomplished is also commanded.

When anything is prohibited, all that relates to it is prohibited.

He who acquires for himself, acquires for his heirs.

He who commits fraud acts in vain.

He who uses his own right harms no one.

He who acts badly hates the light.

He who does not freely speak truth, is a betrayer of truth.

He who does not forbid when he can forbid, commands.

He who does anything through another, is regarded as doing it himself.

He who first offends causes the strife.
They who seek a reason for everything, subvert reason.
He who is silent appears to consent.
That which is not valid at the beginning, improves not by lapse of time.
What is otherwise good and just, if it be sought by force and fraud, becomes bad and unjust.
What is done contrary to the law is regarded as not done.
What is necessary is lawful.
Time cannot render valid an act void in its origin.
What is mine cannot be taken away without my consent.
That which does not appear, does not exist.
That which is ours cannot be lost or transferred to another without our own act, or our own fault.
What I cannot do by myself, I cannot do by another.
What is first is true; and what is first in time is best in law.

In whatever manner a thing is constituted, in the same manner it is dissolved.
Whenever the interpretation between liberty and slavery is doubtful, the decision must be in favor of liberty.
Reason in law is perfect equity.
Reason is not confined to any place.
We must have recourse to what is extraordinary when what is ordinary fails.
A mandate of an illegal thing is void.
Remedies for rights are ever favorably extended.
Everyone is the manager and disposer of his own affairs.
A thing is private which is not common.

Reservation and protest do not create a right, but protect a right.

The right of the grantor being extinguished, the right granted is extinguished.

Let the principal answer.

Rights never die.

A sacrilegious person transcends the wickedness and cupidity of all other robbers.

To write is to act.

Written obligations are superseded by writings, and obligations of naked assent is dissolved by naked assent to the contrary.

A sentence passed by one who is not a judge should not harm anyone.

Slavery is an institution by the law of nations, by which a man is subjected to a foreign master, contrary to nature.

If anyone of certain forms required be wanting, when equity requires, it will be aided.

Silence shows consent.

An affirmative statute does not take from the common law. Remove the foundation, the work fails.

The greatest charity is to do justice to individuals, and at any time whenever it may be necessary.

That is the highest law which favors religion.

That reason is strongest which operates in favor of religion.

Suppression of the truth is equal to the expression of the false.

The law favors a thing which is of necessity.

The owner of property is not divested of his title by a larceny of it.

Things are dissolved as they be contracted.
Things grounded upon an illaid void beginning cannot have a good perfection.
Tort is contrary to law.
A title is the just right of possessing that which is our own.
Where transgression is multiplied, let the infliction of punishment be increased.
Trusts survive.
Where there is a right there is a remedy.
Every obligation is dissolved in the same manner in which it is contracted.
Plain truths need not be proved.
Truth fears nothing but concealment.
The laws serve the vigilant and not those who sleep.
Void things are as no things.
Words spoken vanish, words written remain.
The voice of the people is the voice of God.
